

Professional Development Matters – AP3417

This program explores the current world of career development and what it takes to forge a path toward a successful long-term career. This program is suited for full time employees who are interested in taking responsibility for their development to achieve success and career satisfaction.