THE PLANO COMMUNITY GARDEN

The Junior League of Plano (JLP) has partnered with the City of Plano to bring this garden to life.

The Plano Community Garden provides the bulk of its fresh produce to area food banks for the less fortunate.

The garden's benefits include promoting volunteerism in the community, presenting educational opportunities for local schools and children's organizations, and providing healthy food for our community's hungry.

JLP members along with community volunteers have built this garden from the ground up. The Junior League of Plano coordinates the "Adopt-A-Plot" program ensuring there is a reduction of hunger in Collin County.

The garden is a cohesive effort from everyone in the community and its success comes from "hands on" involvement.

VOLUNTEER

AT THE PLANO COMMUNITY GARDEN

There are many opportunities to volunteer at the garden!

Adopt a plot or just come help out!

The fourth Saturday of each month is set aside for larger projects such as planting and garden clean up. There are great opportunities for volunteer organizations, especially scout troops or youth groups, to get involved in the garden.

HISTORY OF THE GARDEN

The Plano Community Garden began as the vision of a JLP member and a City of Plano employee who had visited the Coppell Community Garden and wanted to bring this asset to Plano. This vision underwent extensive research and development before being approved. The land was donated by the North Texas Municipal Water District (NTMWD) and actual construction began in June 2005.

The garden is 100% organic, designed to be self-sustaining and environmentally friendly.

As of today, we are 36 beds strong and look forward to future growth.
